

If I chose to PAY for a service there is no reason it should be denied because some one else provides a similar service on a sporadic and inferior basis. I have paid for the ability to tune to a traffic channel and get traffic reports. Why should I have to surf local channels to see if one happens to mention what the local traffic might be. Is OnStar prevented from sending emergency service or unlocking cars because they might compete with the local locksmith? Customers have paid for OnStar and customers are paying for XM.
